MAYOR NAMES "GOATS" FOR SUNDAY LAW

New Commission Named by Thompson to Take Responsibility for Sunday Closing Violations—Charley Fitzmorris and Serg't John Naughton Are Members—Second Ward Satisfied.

Mayor Thompson selected an official "goat" commission today. Its painful duty will be to take upon itself the handling of violations of the Sunday closing law without stepping on the toes of the administration friends and without getting Thompson still further "in bad" with the reform bunch.

The commission will consist of Charley Fitzmorris, the mayor's secretary; Serg't John Naughton, one of Chief Healey's right-hand men, and an ass't corporation counsel to be selected by Sam Ettelson. The latter intimated today that James W. Breen would be his choice.

The present plan of the mayor is to shift the entire responsibility of the Sunday closing onto the shoulders of this commission. This plan was put in operation today at a conference between the mayor, Sam Ettelson and Chief Healey.

"I want to be firm in the Sunday closing law," said the mayor, "but I also want to be fair with the saloonkeepers. Out of the 60 violations reported Sunday I found that about 40 were technical violations that did not warrant the revocation of
